When Placed on Trial for Shooting Prominent Citizen Plea of Insanity Was Made.

REGIMENT AT JAMESTOWN

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, Va., November 16.—J. Edgar Crismond, notorious in Portsmouth for having made a partially successful effort to burn that city a decade ago, for which he served a term in the State Penitentiary, and who has been in numerous shooting episodes since his release from prison, was adjudged insane by a lunacy commission today. He was placed on trial for having recently shot and wounded J. Leslie Boyle, a prominent citizen of Portsmouth. His counsel made a plea of insanity. He will be committed to the Eastern State Hospital for the Insane at Williamsburg as soon as the officers arrive for him.

At the conference at regimental headquarters in this city between Colonel C. C. Vaughan, commanding the Seventy-first Regiment, and the officers of the regiment, the idea of having the entire regiment encamp at the Jamestown Exposition met with hearty approval. The time of the encampment, however, was not fixed.

The officers decided to purchase at their own expense full-dress uniforms to correspond with the new uniforms ordered for privates at the recent Richmond conference.

LOCAL BANKS WIN.

Will Secure Fifteen Thousand in Hands of Trustees of Eddy Press.

WINCHESTER, Va., November 16.—Judge Henry Clay McDowell, in the United States District Court at Lynchburg, today rendered his decision in the suit of the Eddy Press, Printing Press Company and others against a fund of $15,000 in the hands of the trustees of the Eddy Press, of this city. The Eddy Press Company claims that the funds of trust held by the Shenandoah Valley National Bank and the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Winchester were invalid. The special referee in the case decided in favor of the local banks, and Judge McDowell sustains this decision, the effect of which will be to turn over the funds to the banks.

NEARING THE END.

Commission Finished With N. Y., P. & N. in a Single Day.

All the railroads cited to appear before the Corporation Commission in the uniform freight rate matter have now given evidence before that body, though that of the Southern, Norfolk and Western and Chesapeake and Ohio has not been completed.

The New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk was heard yesterday and excused. It is a short line and only one day was required in which to take its testimony. Judge T. W. Wilson, of Norfolk, appeared for the road, and Hon. A. C. Braxton for the State.

Auditor H. C. Carle and Traffic Manager R. B. Cooke were the only witnesses. The commission adjourned until Tuesday at 11 o'clock, when the Southern, which was the first road to appear, will be heard. The end is now in sight and judging from the present outlook, the entire case will have been made up by December 1st.

GREAT CIRCUS IN TOWN TO-DAY

Barnum and Bailey Here With Five Long Trains of Cars.

This is circus day. In the railroad yards are five long trains of cars, filled with the paraphernalia of the show. The early spectators say many wagons unloaded and started with their animal half-percussion teams toward the show grounds, he saw thirty elephants and twenty camels loaded down the runways of his double-deck box cars, and he remarked nearly fifty tons of other animals lined up for the procession to the lot. A little later, when he goes out to the show grounds, he will see the contents of those great wagons metamorphosed into mammoth pavilions; he will see a vast hippodrome tent, with seats for 14,000 persons, and furnished with opera chairs and all the comforts of a modern theatre; he will see a world of aerial rigging on which a great company of mid-air performers will give a series of starting acts, which hundreds of riders and acrobats and specialists from all parts of the world will utilize to present, at the afternoon and night performances, the very limit of acrobatic feats; he will see the remarkable apparatus used by Miss Isabelle Butler in the "Top of Death," and the roller coaster, the "Two Tails of Terror," which will find in the adjoining portion, which is in itself larger than the main tent of any other circus, what is claimed to be the most complete collection of wild animals in America, including four specimens of the almost extinct giraffe and the only 13-horned rhinoceros in America; and in the stable he will discover over five hundred horses of almost priceless value.

Owing to the magnitude of this year's show, the street parade has been dispensed with, and the inducements of circus day will really begin with a remarkable display of stunts on show on the exhibition grounds between 11 and 12 o'clock. This performance, which will be given by Prince Yuturkey, a Japanese, and one of the cleverest high wire gymnasts ever seen in America, will be repeated at 2 P. M. There is no charge whatever for it.

The first performance will begin at 2 o'clock, and the final one at 8 P. M. Doors will be open one hour previously to afford visitors an opportunity to visit the menagerie, to enjoy the performance of the Scandinavian gypsy musicians and dancers, the clever feats of the Galliver Lilliputians, and study the massive proportions of the Welsh giant and the French giants. The spectacle "Pavilion of the East" will be given in the evening, and the time required to remove it, the automobile and other big sensational acts will be given in the early part of the program. Reserved and box seats will be on sale all day at Branch Allen's, No. 386 Main Street, and on the show grounds, Broad Street circuit lot, at the opening hours.

RICHMOND ARTIST SUCCEEDS IN PARIS

Mr. Maybee Has Two Paintings Accepted and Hung in Paris Salon.

Mr. E. Delbert Maybee, son of the Rev. Dr. William J. Maybee, of the Children's Home Society of this city, has just returned from Paris, where he has spent the last two years studying art at "Ecole Nationale des Beaux Arts," the government art school of France.

In 1932 he was graduated and awarded a diploma from the painting course of "Ecole Nationale des Beaux Arts." He is the only graduate of that college ever admitted into the two government schools of France. He passed successful examinations into "Ecole Nationale des Beaux Arts" and the "Ecole des Beaux Arts." In the latter school he is the third American student ever admitted into the school of Fernand Cormon.

At this year's "Salon des Artistes Français," Paris, both of Mr. Maybee's paintings were accepted by the jury, and one of them was hung on the "line." The paintings attracted favorable notice from the French press, and resulted in several invitations to exhibit in European galleries. Among these was a special invitation from the city of Liverpool, England, to exhibit in the annual exhibition of modern art held at the Walker Gallery. Other invitations came from the city of Orleans and from the International Society of Artists at Paris.

One of Mr. Maybee's salon pictures, a portrait of a young man called "The Bohemian," was bought by Mr. Stoddard, the manufacturer of neckties, at the salon. The other picture, representing a man seated behind a little stove waiting for the water to boil, became the interesting picture now in Mr. Maybee's possession. Mr. Maybee, who has the picturesque qualities of Richmond and its surrounding country, and says that it compares favorably with anything in Holland or Belgium. Particularly interesting to him are the old streets and markets, where the quaint, two-wheeled, uncovered carts are found in such profusion. He has painted a number of sketches around Richmond, and is so charmed with the possibilities that he plans to open his studio here and will later give a public exhibition of his work.

BOOK COMMITTEE MEETS DEC. 11TH.

Have Issued Subpoenas for the Board of Education—Sessions Will Be Open.

"I don't believe in executive sessions of legislative committees. The public has a right to know about the book scandals, and our examination of witnesses will be held in open session," said Chairman H. E. Byrd, of the School Book Committee, yesterday.

Senator Stranks, of Amherst, left for his home on Thursday night, but Messrs. Byrd and Cox met yesterday morning in the clerk's office of the Senate and continued their work of outlining a plan of procedure.

The committee will adjourn this afternoon to meet again on December 11th, when an executive session will be held. On December 12th the examination of witnesses will begin in the Senate Chamber. Subpoenas have already been prepared and sent to the sheriff of the various counties in which the witnesses reside, and all will be on hand on December 12th.

Sergeant-at-Arms Frank Watkins, of the Senate, has been chosen as sergeant-at-arms of the book investigating committee, and it is probable that Mr. T. H. Owe, will be selected as clerk. The witnesses summoned to appear on December 12th are the old State Board of Education, composed of ex-Governor A. J. Montague, Attorney-General W. A. Anderson, J. D. Easton, Superintendent of Public Instruction Leon G. Tyler, president of William and Mary College; Charles W. Kent, of the University of Virginia; John T. West, superintendent of schools of Norfolk county, and E. C. Clark, superintendent of schools of Lynchburg.

These are all the witnesses who have been summoned for this date, but it is known that the representatives of the various book publishing companies will be called on to appear at the members of the Board of Education have been examined.

Fifth Series of Games Rolled Last Night in Williams's Alleys. "The Virginian" Finely Played. Captured House Filled to the Doors.

The fifth series of six games of the Richmond City Bowling League was rolled last night in Williams's Alleys, with an attendance of four hundred people present. This series was regarded as the home stretch by the bowlers, and all put their best efforts into the contest, in order to get a lead, if possible, for the last games of the tournament. Good scores were made by nearly all the bowlers, and the games next week are expected to eclipse all the others played so far. Spillings retained his lead, gained in the last series played, and, by his excellent play in last night's tournament, held fast to the high pin in the concluding series. Without doubt his bowler's superiority over the rest of the players. In the three games rolled, he averaged 191, which comes as high as the high rollers generally go for a number of games.

The attendance last night showed that the games have been followed as closely and as enthusiastically as they could well be. A strike, or a spare was hailed with loud applause, and the successful roller was praised to the limit by his admirers. The scores were as a whole much better than had been made on other nights, and the players were correspondingly better pleased with themselves than on previous nights. The team retained their lead gained on former scores, and are at present the favorites in the betting. The Times-Dispatch team, however, is only 62 points behind them, and have a good chance for the cup. Among the players 61 points is a small thing, and if the leading team should fall a little below the average the others will have ample opportunity to make good in the home run.

Scores and Totals.

The scores and totals of the home last night for the fifteen games are as follows:

Slack Nerves and Muscles

Women who have let themselves down into a condition of weakness, because of some chronic female disease, are in a pitiable state. Their nerves and muscles are like the slack lines over a horse's back, almost useless in an emergency. They can no more control themselves, than the driver can turn his horse, or hold him back from running away, until he has PULLED IN THE SLACK, just as you can do, for your nerves and muscles, by taking

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's Relief

Slack nerves and muscles mean pain, suffering, nervousness, weakness, the blues, general misery and inability to enjoy life, all of which can be cured by curing the female disease, which is the real cause. "My doctor treated me for five months," writes Mrs. J. F. Byrd, of Stapleton, Ala., "but did me no good. My head, shoulders and back hurt me so I could hardly do my work, and my hands and feet were cold all the time. I was weak and miserable, but I took two bottles of Cardui, and have been in good health ever since." Safe. Reliable. Non-Intoxicating. Try it.
